Quiz night rules and stuff.....

1. Teams may comprise of no more than five physically present individuals who have paid their $20 per person entry fee. When building your team, go for the widest variety of subjects covered possible. This quiz is not for the meek.
2. No Outside help! Please do not call people on your cell phones, download web pages on your smartphones and iPads or sneak in volumes of the Encyclopedia Britannica.
3. The Quizmaster is the final arbiter of truth, beauty, fashion, justice and all questions and other matters of Quiz Night policy. Even if the results appear unfair, inaccurate, rude or obscenely biological, don't argue. It won't help.
4. Any rule not included herein may be created on the spot by the Quizmaster and enforced with brutal abandon.
5. The game is composed of six or seven rounds of ten questions each. The questions will range from Celebrity Gossip to the Periodic Table.
6. At the end of each round, you'll turn in your answers, we'll grade them and then make fun of your scores. After that we'll give a prize to the winning team.

“The pessimist complains about the wind; the optimist expects it to change; the realist adjusts the sails”

William Arthur Ward

7. In the event of a tie, the tied teams will be asked a tie-breaker question. The team with the correct answer will win the round. In the unlikely event that the more than one team put down the winning answer, I'll probably just give the prize to the team I like better. Life is unfair that way, sometimes.

8. At the end of the evening, we'll total the scores and the team with the most points will win a prize and get to do the dishes.

9. And one last thing. Don't forget to select a name for your team and write the team name at the top of answer sheet. Good Luck!!

President's Roundup

It was a pleasure last week to present another cheque to Chairperson Eileen Clapperton of the Taupo Health and Hospital Society. The official opening of the hospital will be held in March.

Funds of $290 were allocated to Land Search & Rescue for one member to attend a training course. $1000 to Family Financial Solutions towards their ongoing expenses. The Peter Smith Trust Fund monies were allocated to Taupo Nui-a Tia and Tauhara Colleges. $1000 each for the Principals to allocated to students that meet the requirements of the Trust. La Leche League have been offered the use of Rotary House lounge to host a morning tea for young mothers. A RYLA student has been appointed and there will be more on this from Mary in a later newsletter. The membership committee is still on track with the membership drive and are seeking help from all members. Events requiring your involvement are Oxfam and District Conference in Tauranga 25th April, please give these events serious consideration.
